TRANSMITTAL OF TERMINAL DISCLAIMER AND
CONDITIONAL PETITION UNDER RULE 182 OR 183

Applicants hereby request that the enclosed Terminal Disclaimer be entered in the above referenced application and listed on the Patent which issues thereon. The issue fee in the above application was sent to the Patent Office with a transmittal bearing Certificate of Mailing dated September 13, 1988. The Commissioner is hereby authorized to charge Deposit Account No. 04-250 for any fee payable for filing the Terminal Disclaimer.

If a petition is required in order to have the Terminal Disclaimer listed on the issued patent, applicants hereby petition under Rule 182 or 183. The Commissioner is also hereby authorized to charge Deposit Account No. 04-250 for any fee required in connection with the Conditional Petition.

The undersigned has only just received the enclosed Terminal Disclaimer from his foreign associate and thus was not able to forward it earlier. This Terminal Disclaimer has not been required by the examiner but is voluntarily being filed by applicants under Rule 321, which allows for the disclaimer of the terminal part of any patent to be granted.

Applicants request that the Terminal Disclaimer be disclosed on the face of the Patent as issued, but in the event that this request is refused, applicants hereby submit the same Disclaimer for publication in the Official Gazette and for attachment to printed copies of the specification under Rule 321.

Choay S.A. is the assignee of the entire interest in the above application and believes that the assignment was transmitted to the Patent Office by its prior attorney. However, it is unaware of any Reel and Frame number and the Assignment branch has not been able to supply this information. Applicants are currently attempting to determine whether the Assignment is present in the Patent Office's files.

Respectfully submitted,
